About the project:

This project will examine the theme of nostalgia. Oscillating between sadness, hope and social belonging, nostalgia is an extremely ambivalent construct: It has the power to connect people through shared experiences and show different perspectives on the past. It encourages our imagination, but also makes us vulnerable to manipulation. As a dance company, we want to create with this performance a diverse, temporary space for social exchange and cohesion: With this project, we seek audience groups that we do not (yet) reach. Inspired by the currently very popular 90s party trends. We are curious to explore party settings artistically. We plan to create a piece that can also be perceived as a party.

Nature of movement language:

We are looking for professional dancers of all styles, races, genders, ages, body types and artistic backgrounds, who can embody the cross discipline between contemporary dance and party movement. Specifically we are interested in the deconstruction and redesigning of popular dance styles of the 90's party scenes.

Expectation of performers:

- Personal interest in diving into the topic of Nostalgia.
- Excitement about performing in both theaters and club like settings.

- A passion, appreciation and nerdy interest in 90's aesthetics, pop music and dance styles.
- A playful attitude towards cliché and pop culture
- A joy for partying.

Nature of creative process:

Our creative process will consist of a lot of improvising both physically and theatrically, setting material, having many conceptual discussions, weekly engagements with local communities of non-professional dancers and experts in the field nostalgia.

The Audition:

The audition will consist of a guided warm up, improvisational and theatrical tasks and creating set material. More detailed information about the audition day will be provided via email with confirmation of acceptance to attend the audition.

Fee: Calculated in accordance with the current national fee recommendations. Exact length of creation process and fee is still to be determined based on funding results.
